WHY THE CHANGE?

The patrons of the Anadarko schools were very much surprised to learn of the action of the School Board in turning down Prof. Bishop's application for re-employment as Superintendent of our city schools. Mr. Bishop's high standing as a citizen, his unquest the cream thickened, and it was tioned efficiency and ability as Superintendent the past two years, a well satisfied corps of teachers' and above all, the esteem and respect of practically every student of our schools, count for naughtapparently in the action of the Board.

Can it be that any member of the Board is so narrow minded and hopped out to safety. that the public weal or woe is of no consequence to them? Is there a man on the Board so derelict in his sworn duty for the honest discharge of his official duties as to allow personal motives to influence his action to the detriment of our schools? Or, has someone an axe to grind? How many of the Board members who opposed Mr. Bishop have children in school? We do not know Mr. Kimes, the man who was named by the Board, hence this article is in no way a reflection upon him; how. ever, we do know that Prof. Bishop has been offered an unmerited indignity. Mr. Bishop took charge rf the chools here when all was turmoil and dissatisfaction and in his quiet, dignified manner, has brought order out of chaos, placing Anadarko on the map as a school town—having astained a higher plane of excellance than ever before. He is universally regarded as an efficient and capable teachers, well qualified in every way for the position he holds and is regarded by ninety-nine of every one hundred who are interested in Do Not Endanger Life When an our schools as such.

Percy was lazy, but Johnny was a hustler. While playing around a spring house they fell into a jar of cream.

"Oh my, oh my," wailed Percy, 'I see our finish. We'll both be drowned or starve to death. We can't get out of this mess."

"Isch ka Bibble," said Johnny Frog. "Cheer up and watch me. And you do as I do.

Then Johnny Frog began to kick and struggie. In a short time not long until they bad churned an island of butter. Johnny and Percy climbed up on the island

"Now you see what hustling! does," said Johnny. "Had I given up and remained quiet, doing nothing, we should both have been drowned."
